

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at <http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content>.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

DORDRECHT—ETCHING

BY JAMES MCNEILL WHISTLER—BRYAN LATHROP BEQUEST

COMING EXHIBITIONS

DURING April, the thirtieth annual architectural exhibition will be shown. This exhibition is under the joint management of the three organizations, The Chicago Architectural Club, The Illinois Society of Architects and the Illinois chapter of the American Institute of Architects, with the coöperation of the Art Institute.

The display will include exhibits illustrative of architecture and the allied arts. A feature of the exhibition will be the loan collection of furnishings, such as rare tapestries, rugs, and similar objects of artistic value. These articles will be installed among the other exhibits in such a way as best to contribute to the general scheme of arrangement.

They will be lent from the homes of Chicago collectors. The effect of an Italian garden, at the entrance to the exhibition, will form an attractive note.

On March 26 an exhibition of works by Adolph Monticelli was hung.

During the period from May 1 to May 29, there will be an exhibition of paintings by Ignacio Zuloaga. Three exhibitions will be current from May 4 until June 11. These will comprise the annual exhibition of American water colors, pastels, and miniatures, including the "rotary exhibition" of the American Water Color Society; an exhibition of paintings by DeWitt Parshall; and the annual exhibition of the Art Students' League of Chicago.